World Wi-Fi Day

JUNE 20TH

Did you know that a large majority of people assume that Wi-Fi and internet are one and the same? Let's do a deeper dive!

To put it simply, Wi-Fi is a wireless technology that is used to connect multiple Wi-Fi enabled devices to the internet to allow you the flexibility of the "on-the-go" connection we all are so accustomed to. A wireless router is connected directly to your internet modem and acts as a hub to broadcast the internet signal via radio signals to all your Wi-Fi enabled devices. As long as you are within range of your Wi-Fi coverage area, your devices should remain connected to the internet.

Often times, our homes or businesses have multi-levels, a large number of doors, concrete walls, and/or random dead zones. This can cause a major disruption to the radio signals trying to reach your devices.

Adding a Wi-Fi extender or Wi-Fi booster that relays a wireless signal to these areas can make a huge impact in your Wi-Fi coverage. Contact our office today if you are having trouble with your Wi-Fi signal and we can help curate a plan to get you the coverage you need!
